ARMY RETIREE. After 30 years standing guard near the entrance gates of American Steel Foundries in Granite City, this Model M-41 tank is being retired to the Second Armored Division Museum at Fort Hood, Tex. During World War II, American Steel made parts for several models of tanks, including the one shown here as it was loaded on a truck for removal to the museum Thursday. A. P. Steinhauser, works manager, made arrangements with Lt. Col. Donald J. Elmore of the U. S. Army Installation to transport the tank to the museum. Special equipment was used to load the tank which weighs 72,000 pounds.

Corn Plant to Stay Area's 1st Ransom Skyjack a Dramatic Sight

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Corn Sweeteners, Inc., will continue to operate the former Marshall Division of Miles Laboratories plant here, at least through April 1, 1973, and probably for years beyond that, Martin Andreas, executive vice-president of Corn Sweeteners, said Friday.

The company was to operate the local plant for a trial period of three to four months, starting April 1, "to determine the feasibility of converting it into a modern, efficient corn milling operation."

The plant will have operated three months under the new company Friday.

"There is no doubt that we will keep the plant going," Andreas said. "We definitely are committed for the year (to April 1, 1973) and we have a very positive state of mind for continuing beyond that."

He said production in July is expected to reach the level at which Miles Laboratories was operating the plant when it closed March 31, with only slightly more than one-half of the number of employees who were working for Miles. The plant has a capacity to process about 35,000 bushels of corn per day for food products and employed 497 persons when it was closed.

Discussing the trial period under Corn Sweeteners, Andreas commented, "Things have progressed even better than we had hoped in quality, production and our ability to make and ship the material out."

Costs Declining
The company official reported that per unit costs have continued to decline since Corn Sweeteners began operating the facility and indicated that the facility should be operating at a reasonable profit in the near future.

He said bids have been taken on new, modern equipment and machinery for the plant, while the bids and the plans to improve the facility now are being assessed. "We are not committed at this point," he explained.

"We feel quite good about the plant and the people and their attitude and it would lead us to believe that we will be operating in Granite City for a long time," Andreas said.

He declined to disclose the precise number of persons employed at present, but said "a slightly higher level of people" is now employed than was working in April.

The local plant was built by St. Louis Syrup and Preserving Co. in 1930 for manufacture of corn syrup.

In 1967, it was purchased by Corn Products Refining Co. and "Karo, the Spread for Daily Bread" was produced through 1969, when the Best-Clymer Co. purchased the plant to be operated by Tempier Corn Products.

Three years later, in February 1972, Best-Clymer sold the facility to Union Star and Refining Co., which operated here through 1967. That year, Miles Laboratories purchased the plant and operated it through its closing by that firm March 31.

Corn Sweeteners, a division of Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., Decatur, Ill., will operate the plant at least through its 70th year in Granite City, which will be attained in 1973.

The June issue of the Lambert St. Louis International Airport News included a front page article headlined "Modern Arresting Gear Installed on Runways."

A different kind of arresting procedure would have been helpful there Friday evening, when the 11th U.S. airplane hijacking-ransom case occurred.

It was the first in this metropolitan area.

My wife, Lois, and I were returning from a western vacation and were destined to land at Lambert at 4:25 p.m. Friday, the precise time at which "skyjacked" American Airlines Flight 119 was arriving back at the St. Louis airport.

Our Frontier plane was diverted to the south and then landed about 15 minutes later.

Once on the ground, we watched the patriotically painted Boeing 727 taxi about after being refused. It had just discharged 80 passengers; remained aboard were seven crew members, 13 passengers and the hijacker.

Displaying a gun, the hijacker had ordered the return flight after the plane had almost reached its destination, Tulsa, Okla. It had left here at 2:40 p.m. Friday and he interviewed at 3:25 p.m.

We watched the 5:20 p.m. takeoff from Lambert, seeing

State Legislation

97% to Be Freed of Personal Property Tax; Lottery Beaten

State Senator Sam M. Vadabene, (D) Edwardsville, announced Friday that the Illinois Senate that day adopted legislation which virtually removes the personal property tax on individuals, farmers and small businesses in Illinois.

Passage of the legislation came after it was presented to the Senate by a special six-member committee appointed to come up with a bipartisan tax relief plan.

Vadabene commented, "When this legislation becomes law, probably 97% of all individuals in the state will no longer have to pay a cent of personal property tax."

"This marks one of the high points of the 1972 legislative session. The Illinois electorate voted by referendum two years ago to completely abolish the personal property tax on individuals, only to have the courts overturn that action on constitutional grounds."

"This legislation merely does what the voters sought to do in 1970—and I believe the courts will agree these are constitutional acts."

The package exempts from taxation all personal property used in farming. Besides removing farm equipment, livestock and other agricultural items from taxation, it also retains existing exemptions granted individual taxpayers for one car and a household of furniture.

The bipartisan plan also allows a flat exemption of $5,000 from the assessed valuation of personal property owned by every Illinois taxpayer, individual or corporate. This, for all practical purposes, abolishes the personal property tax on all but larger corporations in the state, Vadabene said.

Eight days earlier, the Senate had named a special panel to produce a workable tax relief package. Members of the committee met several times to hammer out a program to relieve taxpayers.

Vadabene co-sponsored the legislation drafted by the special committee. He told the Press-Record jubilantly, "It was a great day for the Illinois Senate and a great day for Illinois citizens."

In another state legislative development, the Senate on Friday killed a proposed state lottery bill, which was rejected by 17 Republicans.

Sen. Daniel O'Brien, D-Chicago, sponsor, charged that the GOP members held a caucus against it, marking Illinois as the first state in which a political party has taken action as a group.

Supporters said the lottery would have funneled $100 million a year into the state treasury.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie had indicated his opposition, claiming that "gambling has a corrupt influence on government."

Several states, including New York, have legalized state lotteries.

vote Thursday was a bill to boost salaries of associate circuit court judges by $5,000 a year. It was sent to the Senate. With the hike, 17 non-lawyer judges would receive $20,000 a year, while 278 with law degrees would jump from $18,500 to $23,500.

A bill which would provide pay increases for state officials ranging from the governor to the lawmakers, is stalled in the Senate.

Identity of Murder Victim Still Mystery

The identity of a young man found dead near the new Broadway underpass in Venice on June 19 is still unknown and efforts to identify him from fingerprints and clothing have been unsuccessful, Venice Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley said today.

A report received this week from the state crime laboratory showed that the man was shot in the chest with a 20-gauge shotgun.

Fingerprints from the shooting victim still are being compared to existing fingerprint records by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Illinois Bureau of Identification.

The body is being held at a funeral home pending positive identification.

Driver Hurt as Car Strikes Utility Pole

Charles R. Harris, 32, St. Louis, was injured as his northbound auto struck a utility pole in front of the Venice City Hall at 9:20 a.m. yesterday.

The car failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection, went out of control and hit the pole. The auto was demolished. Harris was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was examined and then transferred to Jewish Hospital. Injuries included a laceration to his upper lip.

Passenger Identified

Robert Wilson was listed today as the tentative identification of the only missing passenger on American Airlines' Friday St. Louis-Tulsa flight. A hijacker is being sought in Indiana after bailing out over that state.

Proposal on Noise Seen As Barring Land Usage

The Illinois Pollution Control Board will conduct a public hearing on proposed noise regulations at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the East St. Louis City Hall, Seventh Street and Collinsville Avenue.

Testimony by Quad-Cityans is planned, some of it challenging part of the anti-noise proposal as unconstitutional, economically unreasonable and technically impractical.

Particular targets are Rule 103, Non-Degradation, and Rule 203, Undeveloped Land.

The latter "would overrule local zoning ordinances and comprehensive plans, almost certainly crippling industrial development," Edward B. Kellogg, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce executive, said during the weekend.

Rule 103 relates that "land whose noise environment is better than limits established here-in shall be maintained at its high quality. Such noise environment shall not be lowered in quality unless it can be demonstrated that such change is justifiable to accommodate necessary economic or social development."

Rule 203 says that "the applicable land use designation for undeveloped land shall be determined by the predominant land use of the surrounding property or, if no use is predominant, by the most restrictive designation applicable to any of the surrounding property."

A spokesman for the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality said Rule 203 "is designed to prevent exploitation of undeveloped land."

The 1972 wheat harvest is under way. A limited number of yield estimates reported by farmers indicate some wheat will yield more than 60 bushels per acre.

Last year, wheat averaged a record 45 bushels per acre in Madison County, compared with 38 bushels in 1970.

This year's average yield likely will be a little under the 45 bushel record due to the dry weather conditions in May and early June. But the yields will be good, farmers report.

Corn and soybeans are growing rapidly and are much improved because of recent rains. Some fields are getting weeds; there was insufficient moisture to activate herbicides in many fields.

aged corn, soybeans and wheat in an area two miles southwest of New Douglas.

Representatives of the maritime industry from the Seaport of Chicago will be in the St. Louis area Wednesday to call on metropolitan importers and exporters.

Ray C. Dickerson, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, told the Press-Record that increased traffic through Chicago is the goal of this phase of the traffic development program sponsored by the department.

Personal contacts with area businesses and industries will be made by participants in the program, representatives of custom brokerage houses, freight forwarding firms and the steamship industry, and members of the Business and

Many Items, Suspected Drugs Are Discovered

Kenneth Milton Jr., 24, of Apartment 2 at 412 Madison Ave., Madison, was charged at his home at 4:40 a.m. Saturday with production of cannabis (marijuana), possession of cannabis, burglary, theft and possession of hypodermic syringes.

Ray C. Dickerson, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, told the Press-Record that increased traffic through Chicago is the goal of this phase of the traffic development program sponsored by the department.

Items confiscated included five plants; a vial containing seeds; a large pipe; a wood box containing two pipes, a piece of plastic tubing, 10 plastic spoons and three pipe filters.

Another box contained 38 pills, two plastic bags and a vial 15 plastic syringes and a home-made syringe; four spoons; a mortar and pestle containing a pink powder; a 13-inch piece of rubber tubing; a small pipe; and razor blades, scissors, adhesive tape and bottles.

Items found at the Milton apartment, allegedly missing from Michael Stovall's Apartment 5 there, included two portable television sets, a turntable, two speakers, a radio-amplifier combination, a tape recorder, a digital clock radio, a camera, a strobe light, five stereo tapes, 24 record albums, a jewelry box containing an assortment of jewelry and a large bottle containing pennies.

Milton and a 21-year-old Glen Carbon man were taken into custody. Milton was charged and the other man was held as a material witness.

Stovall had reported at 10:35 p.m. Friday that articles worth $4,000 were missing.

Madison Police Investigator Paul Bargiel said a man enter the rear window of Milton's apartment at 4:30 a.m. Saturday and knocked at the door to see whether there might be an intruder inside.

He and another Madison officer were admitted and found two plants growing there. Three other plants were found elsewhere in the apartment and they saw several boxes of suspected narcotics and paraphernalia in a closet.

the big jetliner move northward slowly along a runway. Later gathering speed, it soared into the air and headed northwest. The original crew was still aboard at that time. After circling this metropolitan area, the flight went toward Fort Belvoir, but returned here at 5:28 p.m. to take aboard passengers and about $500,400 ransom.

A new flight crew boarded the plane at 12:20 a.m. Saturday but the 727 was rammed ten minutes later by a luxury auto driven by David John Hanley, 30, Florissant, Mo., who apparently felt the hijacking ought to be prevented through direct action. He was hurt and is in serious condition at St. John's Mercy Medical Center. The hijacker, new crew and a passenger were transferred to another plane, which took off at 1:45 a.m.

The hijacker bailed out near Kokomo, Ind., at 2:53 a.m. Saturday and a massive search for him or his body was resumed today. The plane landed at 4 a.m. in Chicago, ending the 13-hour ordeal.

It was a dramatic sight and episode, rivaling the fictional plot of a major motion picture, "Skyjacked," which we viewed last week.

A conclusion reached while watching the film also seemed applicable to the real-life drama — a tougher policy, including checking of luggage and suspicious coat bulges, is long overdue at many airports, including Lambert.

It seemed particularly ironic that our trip which ended Friday began last Monday with a flight that had remained uncertain until the last minute due to a partially effective one-day strike by airline pilots. Their objective was a tougher worldwide antihijacking policy.

Dr. E. H. Droege, 72, Retired Surgeon, Dies

Dr. E. H. Droege, 72, a retired Granite City physician, died at 1:20 a.m. Saturday at the Veterans Hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla. He had been a patient at the hospital for 18 months.

IEA Pledges Added Effort In Government, Education

The Illinois Education Association, the largest teacher organization in the state, pledged Wednesday to continue their "concentrated effort to bring good government and good education to Illinois."

Dr. Curtis Platt, executive director of the IEA, made the pledge after an Illinois General Assembly Legislative Commission report praised the IEA for "commitment to good government... which constitutes the essence of American politics."

The 66,000 member IEA, an affiliate of the 1.2 million-member National Education Association, was cleared by the government Wednesday of charges of bribery and vote-buying.

The charges, labeled "groundless" by the government, were made by the leader of the Illinois Federation of Teachers, a smaller, rival teacher organization. That leader, Oscar Weil, had charged that teacher dues paid to the IEA were being spent to influence the votes of legislators.

Without Basis
A thorough investigation by the prestigious Illinois Legislative Commission found no basis in fact by the IEA and the IFT to be "groundless and without basis in fact."

The commission praised the IEA for the lobbying efforts on behalf of better education in the state. The IEA, through its independent political arm IPACE (Illinois Political Action Committee for Education), endorses and supports candidates who are committed to better education.

The Illinois Federation of Teachers spends no money on lobbying.

Dr. Platt said the IEA was "gratified by the thoroughness and precision" of the investigation by the state.

"We opened our books completely to the commission and cooperated fully," Dr. Platt said. "Not only did we have nothing to hide, we are proud of our teacher's commitments to legislative action as a way to improve teaching and learning conditions in our state."

Voluntary Contributions
Dr. Platt indicated that the IEA teachers, through voluntary contributions to IPACE, would continue to use money in political action for the sake of better schools in Illinois. IPACE is currently raising $300,000 from Illinois teachers. Platt stressed that the charges by Weil did not alienate IEA teachers from Federation teachers.

"We have no quarrel with any Illinois teacher," Platt said, "our strength lies in unity."

But Oscar Weil and the federation leaders, desperate after the sellout of teachers interests in Chicago during the recent crisis, are fighting to keep their jobs.

"The IEA is the largest and most effective teacher advocate organization in the state," Platt said. "Oscar Weil and his charges are an effort by federation leaders to mislead their teachers by substituting foolish fabrications for effective programs. It is a sad day when an Illinois federation staff member is proven a liar by the Illinois General Assembly as Oscar was today."

Political Realities
"The IEA is leading Illinois teachers and invites any federation teachers to join us in our effort to change the political realities of Illinois education," Platt said.

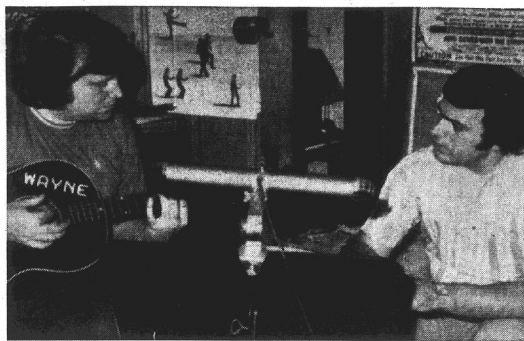

"Our first challenge," he stressed, "will be the passage of an effective collective bargaining law in Illinois. Only through the passage of such a law can the input of professional educators in the classroom be maximized."

"And where that happens, education has a chance to flourish." The collective bargaining bill failed to pass the Illinois General Assembly during the last session but Platt pledged that "in the interest of good government, good education and teacher rights, the IEA will be back."

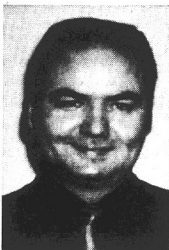

"And we will get a bargaining bill."

New Steel City Sound to Get Test on First Record

The "Steel City" sound may replace the Nashville sound in the near future, according to music promoter Ed Brinkley from Triangle Productions, Inc. of Granite City.

Brinkley has promoted a new record featuring Wayne Scannell with the Casuals providing the music and Jim Campbell doing a solo. Campbell, who sings with the Victory Quartet, a well known gospel music group, is making his first bid in the country western field.

The record will feature Campbell on one side doing "Touch of Love," and on the flip side will be the "new sound" by Scannell and the Casuals, doing the old favorite "It Takes a Worried Man."

A distribution in excess of 2,000 promotional records going to the New York market and the mid-west will be out early in July.

When asked how he happened to approach Wayne and the Casuals to record, Brinkley said, "I went into the Glick store in Madison to buy a sports coat and began talking to Wayne Scannell the manager. We naturally talked music, while I was trying on coats. I then took in an A. O. Smith party where his group played and I thought they were great, so I talked to them about cutting a record."

As for his promo record goes as well as we think it will, we'll probably cut an album and have pictures of all our steel mills on the cover to go with the new steel city sound."

Truck License Plate Deadline Set Friday

Secretary of State John W. Lewis today reminded owners of trucks and other second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal year basis that time is getting short to obtain their license plates for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

He pointed out that the statutory deadline for displaying the new plates is midnight Friday, June 30, adding that there can be no guarantee that mail orders received in Springfield this week can be processed and the plates delivered by mail in time for the statutory deadline.

Sales of license plates for vehicles in this category are lagging behind last year's totals, Lewis said.

The white plates with black numerals and lettering may be purchased over the counter at two locations in Springfield and three in Chicago. In Springfield, the over the counter outlets are in the Centennial Building and at Ninth Street and South Grand Avenue. In Chicago, they are at 5301 West Lexington St., 5401 North Elston Ave. and 8601 Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Drive.

Couples Repeat Wedding Vows in Church Settings

St. John United Scene Of Lewis-Gasho Wedding

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Vandelea Gasho and Danny Austin Lewis Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ, before an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladiolus and mums.

The Rev. Paul R. Surbey officiated at the double ring ceremony at 6:30 o'clock.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gasho, 1812 Market St., Madison and Mrs. Kathleen Lewis, 1670 Fifth St., Madison, and the late Judge Austin Lewis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white organza. The Empire bodice was fashioned with a high neckline, outlined with re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls, and the skirt featured a front panel of alternating bands of satin ribbon lace. A bow added interest to the back waistline and scalloped lace bordered the hem, sweeping into a full train.

A camelot headpiece of the bride secured a tiered veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby breath.

Traditional wedding music, including the selections "Because" and the "Wedding Prayer," was played by the organist, Mrs. Irene Barrick.

Proceeding the bride down the white carpeted aisle were Miss Kathy Bridges, maid of honor and Miss Sharon Chapman, bridesmaid. Their identical gowns of apricot voile were designed with square necklines, outlined with white Venise lace flowers.

Short sleeves were trimmed with matching lace and sheer ribbon bands encircled the waist. Lace flowers were re-exchanged near the hems of the skirts, creating a lace border effect.

White straw hats, threaded with apricot ribbons, complemented their gowns and they carried baskets of white daisies.

Marilyn Madison, cousin of the bride, the little flower girl, was in an A-line gown of apricot voile, with an overlay of sheer floral print chiffon trimmed in white Venise lace flowers.

She held a basket of white rose petals.

Kevin Layton, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Kerry Scrum was chosen by the groom as best man with Vance Gasho, brother of the bride, as groomsmen.

Austin Lewis, brother of the groom, and Fred Miller seated the guests.

Miss Johanna and Miss Cheryl Ann Pounds presided over the guest book.

Mrs. Lewis, the groom's mother, entertained Friday evening at a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gasho chose a sky-blue Empire dress, completed with an over-blouse of sky-blue with white floral embroidery.

She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Lewis, the groom's mother, was attired in a lilac magnum rayon and nylon dress with an A-line skirt. The high collar and bodice were trimmed in Venise lace, scattered with lilac seed pearls. She wore a pill box hat of matching material and a white orchid corsage.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pounds and family of Lakewood, Calif., relatives of the bride and Mrs. Jennie Fisher of Ellisville, Ill., a relative of the groom.

MRS. DANNY A. LEWIS, the former Miss Vandelea Gasho, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gasho, 1812 Market St., Madison, who was married at St. John United Church of Christ.

Miss Judy Pogorelac, John Kulasza Are Wed

Large altar bouquets of orchid and white summer flowers decorated the sanctuary for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Sylvester Micko, O.F.M.

Miss Patti Jegliewski sang "Let It Be," "Panis Angelicus," and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied at the organ by Jim Havranek.

Mr. Pogorelac escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She chose to wear a bridal gown fashioned of white organza. The fitted bodice featured a mandarin collar, detailed with ribbon inserted Venise lace, with the lacework repeated on the bodice forming a V design and encircling the waist.

The full gathered skirt, accented with matching lace, fell gently into a chapel train and lace motifs adorned the long sheer sleeves.

She wore a Juliette headpiece of Venise lace securing a shoulder length four-tier veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses and baby breath.

Miss Carol Pogorelac, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Phyllis Watkins, Miss Mary Ann Abramovich, both cousins of the bride, Miss Terry Doza and Miss Jane Tarataghi, bridesmaids, were dressed in modified Empire gowns of silk chiffon over tulle.

The ivory-colored "Bodices" were trimmed with Venise lace and orchid ribbon at the mandarin collar and on the cuffs of the long bishop sleeves. The A-line style skirts in orchid chiffon featured a wide ruffled flounce at the hem.

They wore orchid chiffon bows as headpieces and carried bouquets of orchid and white pom poms and daisies.

The Rev. Dr. Lloyd E. Shaw, assisted by the Rev. Joseph Bennett, performed the five o'clock ceremony June 10 at the Presbyterian Church of Roseland in Chicago.

A camelot headpiece, edged with lace, secured her long mantilla veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, daisies, lily-of-the-valley and baby breath.

Miss Pamela Wolszon, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Anne Podajsek and Miss Donna Thomsen, a cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

They wore floral print dresses in shades of purple and lavender of woven chiffon. A velvet ribbon encircled the Empire waistlines and a tiny ruffle enhanced the high neck and cuffs of the long sleeves. A wide flounce formed a ruffe at the hem. Each of the attendants held a basket of pink and white daisies, lavender baby breath and purple asters.

They groom chose his brother, Richard King, as best man. Paul Wolszon, the bride's brother, and Frank Gac of Granite City, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Lighting the candles prior to the ceremony were Dave King, a brother of the groom and Robert Wolszon, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Harvey, after the service. Mr. and Mrs. King entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner at the Tivoli Restaurant in Home, wood.

The bride's mother wore a full length turquoise double knit dress with long sleeves and an accordion pleated skirt, with white accessories. Her

Strawn Named to Head GC Hockey Association

Roy W. Strawn has been elected president of the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association, succeeding Ed Jureau. Strawn was elected by the association during a meeting at which plans for the upcoming season were discussed.

Other officers elected were Jake Hinterser, first vice-president; Bill Portell, second vice-president; and Joe Hassler, secretary and treasurer.

Teams from the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association compete with amateur teams from other cities in the St. Louis area in the Missouri Amateur Ice Hockey Association League.

Granite City will enter teams in the midget, bantam, pee wee, squirt and mini-squirt divisions for children between the ages of 12 and 17.

Players in the program last year will be contacted by team managers and those wishing to register for the first time may contact Strawn at 877-5966.

The association is a two-year-old non-profit corporation to provide youths with an opportunity to develop their interest and skills in ice hockey.

More than 100 youths participated last season. They played games in the St. Louis area and Illinois cities last year.

Granite City also was host city last season to teams from as far away as Canada in post season tournaments held at the Wilson Park ice rink.

At the association's meeting, it was decided to operate the soft drink stand at the park during the July 4 celebration. Mrs. Shirley Rapoff was named chairman of the committee to operate the stand. Proceeds are used to help reduce the costs.

GC Legion Wins Two Games Over Wood River 8-2, 5-0

The Granite City American Legion baseball team handed Wood River an 8-2 defeat on the Coolidge diamond Friday, then traveled to Wood River Sunday to win a 5-0 shutout.

The winning pitcher in Friday's action, Randy Sturdivant, belted a two-run homer, and Mike Stanton tagged a triple as the local Legion racked up five runs in the fifth inning after taking a 2-0 lead in the first. GC added another run in the fourth for good measure. Wood River had a two-run rally in the top of the seventh.

Each team committed four errors. Wood River garnered six hits and Granite City seven.

Vic Reznack of Granite City fanned four, walked one was one-for-three with an RBI at bat. He now has a 3-0 shutout record as he allowed Wood River only three hits Sunday. The game at Wood River was to have been played on July 2 but was moved ahead due to holiday tournament schedules. All five GC Legion runs came in the third inning which started off when Jack Scarborough and Stanton singled. Steve Burdge doubled, Frank Stroehmer singled, Gary Livestry singled and stole second and the pitcher Reznack drove in a run.

Spain Stanton will hurl at O'Fallon at 6 p.m. today. Edwardsville continues to host the top city win 5-0.

Granite City will host Alton at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Coolidge.

Wib Spalding of Ponton Beach put all together and walked away with nearly all the honors and prize money as he won both the super-sprint and late model stock car feature races at the Tri-City Speedway Friday night.

In his No. 444 Camaro, Spalding not only won his fifth of eight late model stock car feature races, but also claimed the top spot in the first heat for fast qualifiers. He placed fifth in the late model qualifications.

Car Leaves Track
The late model feature was marred by three crashes in the first three laps including a five-car pileup in which the No. 7 car of Mike Glass of Edwardsville went over the outside rail between the first and second turns, landing on its wheels with only minor damage. Glass was not injured.

Despite the mishaps, 10 of the 14 cars which started the event crossed the finish line.

The most disappointed driver of the night was Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights who was leading the feature race for a short time when an oil line to his engine broke, enveloping the car in dense smoke. Myers lost control of the car as Spalding, who had been second at the time, assumed the lead.

Close Race
Spalding and Bobby Stanton of East Alton battled for more than 10 laps for the lead while Louie's of Bethalto and Tom Frasher of Jefferson City, Mo., fought a wheel-to-wheel battle for third.

$110,830 U. S. Grant To SIU-SW Program

A grant of $110,830 has been awarded to the Upward Bound Program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern by the U. S. Office of Education to continue the program through June, 1973.

Upward Bound was started in 1968 in East St. Louis to assist the disadvantaged and underachievers in high schools, according to Elvin Davis, director of the program. The program has since expanded to include students from other areas in Madison and St. Clair Counties.

Students having academic and social problems in their high schools are referred to the Upward Bound program by counselors. To be selected, Davis said, a student must have completed the first ten grades and be from a disadvantaged background.

To date, Davis said, 125 students have graduated from the program and received diplomas from the high school they last attended. One graduate is in his second year at Yale University and two others are at Coe College in Iowa. Others are attending SIU-SW and the Department in Higher Education in East St. Louis.

Davis said 76 students are enrolled for the fall. This summer 110 are taking skills classes in math and reading.

Meeting Tonight

The monthly meeting of the Granite City Association for the Retarded will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at St. John's United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

A glass jar containing about $3 in pennies also was missing. There was no sign of forced entry to the building or machines.

Concern for War Prisoners Prior Obligation—Howlett

Before worrying about amnesty for young men who left the country to avoid military service, the American people have a prior obligation to war prisoners and returning veterans, Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, said Friday.

Addressing the 53rd annual state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Peoria, Howlett said the education and employment of GIs coming back from Vietnam deserve a higher priority than the amnesty issue.

"A great deal of thought is now being given to inviting home all the deserters and draft dodgers as well as the conscientious objectors who went to Canada or elsewhere to avoid service in the U.S. armed forces," said Howlett.

"We shouldn't talk about amnesty until every returning veteran is taken care of and every prisoner of war is home."

"It is true the Vietnam war is unpopular. We are winding it down and bringing out our troops. There are sincere people who believe it was a mistake on our side from the start."

Must Make Decision

"Nobody but a mind reader could know if an individual resisted the war out of conscience or for expedience. We will have to make a decision somewhere between welcoming home the runaways with open arms or invoking the full punishment of the law."

"But before working out a solution for those who refused to serve, we should be thinking about those who did serve. Some of them thought it was a dumb, stupid war too, but served anyway rather than cop out."

"We have never had a war, from the Revolution to Vietnam, which could not have been challenged as immoral for some reason or other by anybody who didn't want to fight in it."

"Hundreds of thousands of American young men went to Southeast Asia, some willingly and some unwillingly, to serve in the military as a matter of duty and honor."

"More than 50,000 died there, and more than 300,000 were wounded. But those who finished their service and returned home are finding a mixed-up economy which has trouble finding a place for them."

"We should be seeing that they are trained to their capacity, rehabilitated if needed, and placed in decent jobs. Those who refused to serve can be taken care of later."

Illinois Deer Hunters May Apply for Permits

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield — Persons who want to hunt deer in Illinois this year can begin making deer applications today, according to James Lockart, head of the Division of Game in the Conservation Department.

The gun season for deer will run from Nov. 17 through 19 and from Dec. 8 to Dec. 10. The bow and arrow season will be run from Oct. 1 through Dec. 31 with the exceptions of Nov. 12 through 20 and from Dec. 3 through 11.

Lockart points out that this will be the period of the gun season. Actually 87 counties will be open this year to gun hunting of the deer, according to Lockart. He adds that all of the 102 counties are really open to bow and arrow, but the hunter must get permission from the landowner to hunt.

Open All Counties
Lockart told Copley News Service, "we've opened just about all of the counties we can to hunting at this time. There might be one or two more that can be opened to hunting in the future."

The Conservation Department has been working for the past several years to upgrade the deer population in the state.

State programs combined with local support and local programs have been proving to be very effective.

Again, Lockart says, each hunter will be allowed to take one deer of either sex or any age.

Applications for the deer hunting permits will be processed as soon as they are received in the Conservation Department.

A person wanting a deer permit may acquire an application from the county conservation officer or write to the Conservation Department in Springfield.

If they write to the department, they should include the county in which a person would like to hunt and an alternate, with an individual physical description. This will be considered an application. Also to be included is $5. The hunter should not send cash. It should be a check or a money order.

Dental Endowment Fund Established

The Owen Jacquemin Sullivan Dental Endowment Fund has been established at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern through a gift of $25,000 from Mrs. Sarah O. Sullivan of St. Louis. The gift was made to the SIU Foundation at Southern Illinois University.

The endowment fund will support the Owen Jacquemin Sullivan Dental Student Honors Award to be presented annually to a student in the SIU School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University. The $150 award and a certificate will be presented to the dental student who is judged to have worked most effectively to secure better oral health care for children.

Candidates will be selected on the basis of research activities, better dental practice methods, contributions to dental literature and participation in professional dental groups.

The recipient will be chosen by a committee consisting of two members of the School of Dental Medicine faculty, two dental students and the dean of the dental school.

Retiring Assistant Describes Growth Of SIU-SW Library as 'Fantastic'

"I wouldn't take a million dollars for my years at Lovejoy Library," says Mrs. Wendelin (Marie) Pass, administrative assistant to the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern library director.

"When I joined the staff in March 1961 we had about 22,000 volumes which we received from Shurtleff College. Now there are almost 500,000—a fantastic accomplishment that only those who were there can fully appreciate."

"Dr. John Abbott, the director, likes to tease me and say that I was never really hired," she said. "After I was interviewed for the job, I waited a few days. When no word came from my interview, I wrote Dr. Abbott saying I would be glad to come to work on March 23, and I did."

"I didn't know then that I was one of three who had been interviewed for this particular job. Dr. Abbott didn't have the heart to tell me they were still considering the other two applicants."

Abbott says he has had no regrets. Hired originally as a clerk-typist, Mrs. Pass soon was promoted to chief clerk, then to head of the ordering department. For some time she has been an administrative assistant.

In January 1967 Mrs. Pass was appointed by former President Delyte W. Morris as the first SIU-SW civil service representative to the State Universities Retirement System Advisory Board, an appointment she held for four years.

Parked in Road
Mrs. Pass recalls the old library days on Bluff Road when the snow would pile up so high. "We would park our cars on the road and Dr. Abbott would drive us up the hill to the converted farmhouse which housed our offices. We always used the back door because there was a two-ton rotary file in front of the house. Although we didn't use the front door, the men in the physical plant always kept a path to it when it snowed so the house would look nice."

"There was so much to be done in those days and so few of us, we often worked seven days a week," she said. Each year since working at the library, Mrs. Pass has invited staff members, their families and student workers to a picnic at her home on Dunlap Lake near Edwardsville.

Mrs. Pass said she will miss these contacts. "Everyone at Lovejoy is like an extension of my family. Some I have interviewed for jobs and have had the pleasure of seeing them advance to more important jobs in the library."

"The greatest joy I have experienced has been the opportunity to help students get through college," she said. "Some of them tell us they would not have earned their degrees without us."

Mock Ceremony Aids NCO Club

Members of the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation were entertained last week by fellow club members who performed a "Tom Thumb Wedding" as a fund-raising project.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by Bob Elston and His Street Car Society Band and Army Sergeant First Class John Bowman "officiated" at the mock ceremony.

Portraying the "bride" was Miss Elizabeth Nash, who was escorted by Sergeant First Class James Green. The three "bridegrooms" were played by Sergeant Floyd Schoenherr, Sergeant Thomas Sparks and Gerald Gilbert.

Richard Rose served as "best man" and the attendants were Mrs. Shirley Kindell and Mrs. Geraldine Cox. The performance of the nuptial participants was enjoyed by the onlookers and helped to raise money for a club project, a spokesman reported.

Miss Gwendolyn McCluskey Wed at Pontoon Baptist

Miss Gwendolyn McCluskey featured the bride of John Doe Monroe in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at the Pontoon Baptist Church.

The Rev. Gus Falter Jr., officiated at the double ring ceremony at four o'clock before an altar adorned with ferns, orchid summer flowers and an eternal flame.

"We've Only Just Begun," "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet" and the "Wedding March" were played by the organist, Kevin Rogers.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCluskey, 2001 Wayne Ave. The groom, who resided with his father, James Monroe, 2626 Lincoln Ave., also is the son of Mrs. Marie Monroe, 1402 Kirkpatrick Homes.

An A-line silhouette gown fashioned of white sateen with a detachable chapel train was selected by the bride. She carried a bouquet of white carnations festooned with orchid ribbons.

The Empire bodice of lace featured a high collar and short puffed sleeves enhanced with embroidered lace ruffles and daisy motifs, centered with seed pearls.

Clusters of Venice lace daisies and an organza bow etched with pearls formed the headpiece to hold in place a double tiered veil of bridal illusion, accented with matching lace.

Mrs. Bronda Hall was matron of honor serving with Miss Sandy Hoffstad, cousin of the bride, bridesmaid.

They wore lilac polyester organza gowns with Empire waists and knee-length skirts. The high necklines and short puffed sleeves were trimmed with white lace. Matching rows of lace, centered with ribbon in deep shades of lilac, extended down the front of the bodice.

Both attendants had lilac spun straw hats with orchid braid and streamers and they held bouquets of white carnations.

Gary Hoele was best man and Dennis Hall was groomsmen. Stephen McCluskey, brother of the bride and Tony Hallaway, cousin of the bride, seated the guests.

A reception for the newly married couple was given at Tri-City American Legion Hall, 2351 Madison Ave.

The former Miss McCluskey was graduated from Granite City High School. Her husband was graduated from Madison High School in 1968. They will reside in Granite City upon their return from a short wedding trip.

Mrs. McCluskey, the bride's mother, was attired in a pink polyester street length dress fashioned with a round neckline and short sleeves, accented with sequins on the sleeve band and at the hemline of the skirt. Her accessories were in white and she wore a corsage of white carnations tinted pink to match the dress.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Monroe, chose a light apricot polyester dress made with the A-line skirt and long sleeves. White accessories and a white carnation corsage were worn to complement her ensemble.

FACTS YOU CAN LIVE WITHOUT. ABOUT SOMETHING YOU CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT.

1. Water... there will always be as much in the world as there was at the beginning of time. Water is not destroyed through use. It returns to us as rain over and over and over again.

2. The water that flows from your faucet is a manufactured product—water that is treated, filtered and made safe by your water company.

3. Typhoid, cholera, dysentery, and other waterborne diseases are rare in the U.S. today. Only 60 years ago, 200 in every 100,000 Americans died annually of these infections. Your water company plays an important role in protecting you and your family against such diseases.

4. How much water do you personally use in a day? It varies, of course, depending on your needs, but the national average is about 60 gallons for drinking, cooking, laundering, bathing, lawn sprinkling, and so on. That's a quarter of a ton! We're lucky, in England and France many households still share a single bath with a neighboring dwelling.

5. The water system serving this community is investor-owned. That is, individual investors put up the money for the facilities used in providing water service. The water company pays taxes, sets rates and earnings are closely controlled by the state. Strong, healthy and efficiently operated, investor-owned companies provide water service to some 40,000,000 Americans.

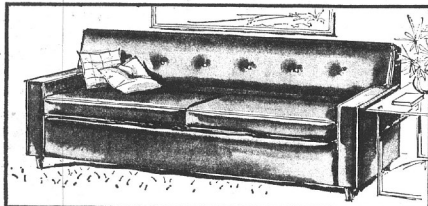

6. Concerned about the quality of our environment? Consider what it might be like without a public water supply system to help keep it clean.

MRS. WILLIAM K. TAFF, the former Miss Debra Sue Thomason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing S. Thomason, 5425 Evergreen Ave., who was married at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Taff-Thomason Nuptials At St. Margaret Mary

Urn holding arrangements of white chrysanthemums and greenery on the altar, together with lighted candles in branched candelabra, provided the setting Saturday afternoon at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Debra Sue Thomason and William Keith Taff.

The Rev. Robert Becker officiated at the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Miss Erie Mills, soloist, sang "One Hand, One Heart," "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied at the organ by Miss Beverly Henderson.

The bride's gown, fashioned of ivory silk organza, was enhanced with applique lace and beads. Long sleeves with circular ruffles at the wrists were set in the Empire bodice and lace motifs were scattered at random over the skirt, ending in a scalloped edge at the hemline.

The bride's mantilla veil, detailed with lace medallions with tiny pearl and bead accents, fell into a full sweep train. An arrangement of miniature carnations and Sweetheart roses in white and shades of green was carried by the former Miss Thomason.

Miss Janet Stuart was maid of honor, serving with bridesmaids, Miss Karen Yardley, Miss Donna Patterson, Miss Kim Taff, sister of the groom, and Miss Becky Thomason, a sister of the bride. Another sister of the bride, Suzi Thomason, was the junior maid.

Leslie Allen, the groom's cousin, with Scott Thomason, brother of the bride, as ringbearer.

The attendants were dressed identically in mint green dotted Swiss gowns, fashioned with square necklines, Empire bodices and puff sleeves. Their three-tiered ruffled skirts featured delicate flower trimming in shades of green.

Large white hats trimmed with green ribbons and streamers completed their attire and they held colonial bouquets of green and white carnations intermingled with baby breath.

Lisa Haskell and Mark Haskell, both cousins of the bride, were candle lighters. Lisa's gown matched the attendants' dresses.

Attending the groom was Walter Greathouse, best man, with Bob Richardson, Rich Duff, Bill Rollins and Scott Taff, the groom's brother, groomsmen. Danny Taff, another brother of the groom, was junior groomsman.

Guests were seated by Ken Yardley and Scott Wilson. The mother of the bride, Mrs. Thomason, selected a camel beige full length dress of polyester lace with a belted back. Bone accessories complemented her gown and she wore a pink-tipped daisy corsage.

Mrs. Taff, the groom's mother, was attired in a formal length dress of mauve pink polyester knit and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids tipped in pink.

The reception was held at Madison Polish Hall immediately following the ceremony with Miss Vickie Harmon presiding at the guest book.

The young couple will reside in Madison upon their return from a wedding trip.

Mrs. Taff, the former Miss Thomason, a graduate of Granite City High School, is employed as a secretary at A. G. Edwards Stock Brokers in St. Louis.

Her husband also graduated from Granite City High School and is a junior year student at SIU-SW. He works for the Schooley-Hennessey-Hartman law firm.

We knew our customers read this column, but we didn't know our own people were so sensitive about it. A complaint from the meat department came up last week for "equal time". It seems that we forgot to mention that Paul Fisk, one of the meat department stalwarts, was also on vacation. This week Margaret Champion is on vacation; so much for vacations.

New item in our produce department: Roadside Janus, 15-ounce jars of strawberry, blueberry, raspberry, black cherry, apricot, Concord grape, orange marmalade, chunky Damson plums. Just the thing for you "organic food lovers". These jams and jellies are made from pure fruit and sugar and contain no artificial flavors, colors or preservatives. "It's the real thing!"

Don't forget about the big holiday coming up. Our 4th of July sale is on right now, since we know from past experience that many of you will be leaving town Thursday. We will be open next Monday and closed next Tuesday. It would have been nice to celebrate "Independence Day" on Monday, too, but evidently our Congress didn't see it that way.

Program at First GC National Bank First in Nation

First Granite City National Bank has become the first in the nation to participate in a new program to utilize its entire staff to promote new accounts and expanded use of existing services by its present customers.

The bank's first employee seminar training program was attended by all of the bank's 75 employees and executives. The program, developed by Executive Ideas, a research, marketing and advertising concern with creative offices in Miami, Baltimore and Denver, is designed to make every employee feel like an integral part of the bank and to show how to sell its services.

The reason for the selection of the program was given by David Fox, vice-president and marketing director of the bank: "We have always believed that the strongest way to sell the bank is through all our employees. If we could make them aware of our services and how to promote them, we'd have the finest sales force possible. That's why we chose this program."

The content of the program was based on an image study conducted by Executive Ideas prior to the start of the seminar. Through lobby interviews, telephone calls and person-to-person, house to house studies, they learned what people thought of banking in general and of First Granite City National in particular.

The findings were incorporated into a series of sessions conducted by Staff Training Directors Jeff Royal and Al Wells.

Report with Public
The sessions showed employees how and why they were important to the bank, how to establish rapport with customers, how to gain new accounts and how to cross-sell bank services. Each session was accompanied by a question and answer period.

Since education without application is ineffective, the employees were given an opportunity to put what they have learned into practical use. The bank has launched an 18-week "Move Ahead" incentive program, also developed by Executive Ideas. Employees will be rewarded for bringing in new business and selling more bank services.

Fox concluded, "We are already beginning to see results. The spirit of cooperation is amazing. If nothing else, this spirited drive is a welcome addition."

Store Planned; Not Dairy Queen

A building permit issued last week for construction of a new ice cream store on lot 2 Maryville Road near O'Hare Avenue was not obtained for a new Dairy Queen shop, as reported in Thursday's issue.

No franchise for operation of another Dairy Queen shop has been issued and no building permit for new facilities has been obtained, according to Loren Davis of Dairy Queen of Greater St. Louis.

Davis said, "The news item June 22 apparently is a result of information erroneously received by your newspaper."

"Dairy Queen of Greater St. Louis, the franchisor of Dairy Queen stores in this area, has not granted a franchise for a store on Maryville Road, nor have they applied for a building permit for a store on Maryville Road."

Dairy Queen of Greater St. Louis now operates three establishments in the Quad-City area—one in Granite City, one in Madison and one in Pontoon Beach.

'We're All in This Together': Council of Governments Key to Achieving Mutual Goals

(Guest editorial by Mayor James E. Williams Sr. of East St. Louis regarding the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the East St. Louis metropolitan area council of governments.)

The traditional notions concerning the City of East St. Louis are no longer true. East St. Louis must be credited with having a potential for redevelopment and economic growth.

The east bank of the Mississippi River and the adjacent areas, including the downtown sector of East St. Louis, cannot be devalued, both in a local and metropolitan context.

East St. Louis has too many natural advantages that are capable of complementing the expanding economy of the St. Louis area.

The image of East St. Louis, together with the natural barrier of the Mississippi River and the arbitrary boundaries of the states of Illinois and Missouri, have delayed and interfered with the communication, trust and involvement among the total population of the area.

Only recently have the leaders of East St. Louis been given a favorable press.

The Poplar Street Bridge, together with its superhighway links, has helped to neutralize the natural barrier and to expand the area-wide economies.

East St. Louis can be the center of that expanded activity.

More and more, the concept of regional involvement through the Council of Governments has been supported by legislative actions of both states. It has eroded the significance of state boundaries.

There should be no pockets of isolation or exclusion in the St. Louis area, and certainly not for the City of East St. Louis. The problems of one are the problems of all.

There is no escaping our common concerns in education, housing, welfare, employment, crime prevention, pollution and taxes.

I recognize the problems facing my administration and the citizens and am working extremely hard and effectively to solve them—and I will.

I am committed to making the city government more responsive and responsible to the community.

Already there have been positive steps taken in several important areas. A new chief of police has been selected and given public assurance of no political interference in handling the police department.

Further, in creating a blue-ribbon citizens committee to review the financial position of the city, I have committed myself and my administration to establish fiscal solvency and to restore public confidence.

The close ties with the governor's office and in Washington have shown encouraging results.

All these actions are impacting in the community. There is a new attitude toward city government.

No longer are there angry voices raised against the administration; groups are now using my office to communicate ideas, to discuss issues fully, confidently and with assurances that something will be accomplished.

A new image is slowly being developed. I envisioned the city growing and responding to the key issues of the entire metropolitan area. There is no better agency to coordinate East St. Louis planning and actions than the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

The governments on the east side have been instrumental in the creation of that agency and I highly endorse the concept for regional communication and involvement.

I believe that the Council of Governments is beginning to function responsibly and collectively for common causes; at the same time, there is also the recognition of the Council's limitations.

As a newer member of the Council, I appreciate the enormous task before it and join with those who are impatient with the many delays and with preservation of the status quo.

This is intolerable, considering the needs of the total region.

I support the aims of the Council as long as the overall objectives of the Council are to eliminate the fragmentation in the region and to establish a continuing process for comprehensive planning which will relate to intergovernmental priorities and fiscal actions.

It is with this philosophy and background that I responded to the latest proposal concerning the railroad relocation study for the riverfront.

I thoroughly understand the value of the riverfront to all of the residents throughout the region and know the impact the development of the riverfront can have on the City of East St. Louis.

Because the riverfront on the east bank is within the city limits, the citizens of East St. Louis must have something to say about it. The final use must conform to the desires of the people of East St. Louis.

Therefore, I am asking the Council of Governments to acknowledge the high responsibility that the city has and to support our responsibility in structuring the study so the greatest possible benefits can be realized for all the people.

All of us in East St. Louis have a commitment beyond the planning phase in order to insure that the final objective is not just the completion of another study.

I also want the Council to know that the East St. Louis problems are not accidental. Many of the conditions in East St. Louis are the direct result of decisions made by powerful interest groups to contain disadvantaged groups in isolated enclaves.

East St. Louis became the main receptacle for the types of land uses which benefited the more affluent in the metropolitan area but worked extreme hardships on the City of East St. Louis.

Starting with the railroads, which fragmented and divided the community, through the creation of six interstate highway systems, which carried the traffic swiftly through the City of East St. Louis, there have been a series of decisions made which have adversely affected the city.

And the people of East St. Louis have had little, if anything, to say about the placement of these deleterious land uses.

Instances of unfair treatment are blatant. As an example, the Union Electric testing station serving the St. Louis downtown area were placed underground; in East St. Louis, they became two sets of above-ground obstructions to the esthetic image of the East St. Louis riverfront.

I want to reverse the decision-making processes which have affected the quality of life in East St. Louis.

I want to be sure that the seemingly technical considerations for land use planning, most of which are political in nature, actually benefit my constituency.

The Council of Governments has the mandates and the responsibility to openly proclaim who wins and who loses by these land use decisions and to insist that they carry the excessive burden of series of losing decisions.

ceremony at Washington Park on Jan. 21.

THE PROMULGATOR was founded by Captain John P. McCartney on May 28, 1882. There had been other publications in the community as early as 1848, but Capt. McCartney's paper was destined to become the first newspaper with continuous circulation in the history of the county.

IN A LETTER to the Yellowings congratulating them on their SIEA contest winnings, Art Jenkins said: "No one knows better than the former publisher that your family stepped in here with a shoe-string and bought a newspaper and a house, all on credit, because your family had friends who believed in you."

Few in this town know that you people work from 70 to 100 hours every week; that you do it with hope and enthusiasm; that you have a love for life and a joyful outlook of "what's going to happen next."

Take the pictures of the happenings—and all for pennies a week from readers.

"You do all these things so the town can have a good newspaper and now the publishers of Illinois think you do have one," said a community's advertisers good behind you."

CULTURE has come to West Salem. Joe Stoll revealed the ADVOCATE that there were 98 entries in the first Town and Country Art Show.

The regional show was held at Harzburg, which had culture even in the days of Charlie Birger.

Ed J. J. NOKOMIS FREE PRESS-PROGRESS, reported a successful arts and crafts show with a local wood carver as one of the chief attractions.

TOM LEE, MARISSA MESSENGER, pictured a badger which had invaded "coon hunting" territory.

And had a series of pix of women pilots (who had invaded men's territory?)

The bit of corn was in an ad in P. E. Huffman's HUTSONVILLE HERALD: A motorist asked a farmer in "territory" to tow and the farmer said, "About two miles as the crow flies."

Then the motorist asked, "Well how far is it if the crow has to walk and roll a flat tire?"

CONAN, MARTINSVILLE PLANET, reveals that the name of the community's new recycling center is WOMEN OF MARTINSVILLE Battle Against Trash.

IN THE DENSONS' MINOR NEWS-DISPATCH, Betty Zimmerman used a pix of a zipper reader on his three-wheeled bike.

A tragic photo was one taken by Joe Vallow of Minonk (son of J. Norris) of a car being pulled from a roadside pond.

In it were two girls who were drowned. If they had a window or could have broken the glass in the back window before the car sank completely, they might have escaped. Rescue attempts failed.

ROY CONRAD, MONROE COUNTY CLARION, Columbia, reports that the new bridge across the Mississippi and just north of the J. B. Bridge may be completed by August.

The Columbia Strassentest, so successful it got out of hand, will be held this year in St. Veronica Voss's Vignettes column in the MCLEANSBORO

Catholic Charities Group Formed

The Rev. Michael Costello, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, was elected as the president of the Tri-City Catholic Charities at its organization meeting, held at the Knights of Columbus hall. The Rev. George Monague will serve as director. Board members are the Rev. J. P. Jordan of St. Joseph's, the Rev. Fred W. Klesner of St. Mark's in Venice, the Rev. Engelbert Binek of St. Mary's in Madison, the Rev. Timothy McKeough of St. Elizabeth's Church in Mitchell, Henry J. Fehle and William K. Meehan.

TIMES-LEADER will be 10 years old.

EVERETT SMITH, ST. ELMO BANNER, pictured a roof caved in on a building which "simply got tired and collapsed." An employee heard the building beginning to crack and everyone was able to get out minutes before it fell in.

PHIL TOPANI, MT. CARMEL DAILY REPUBLICAN-REGISTER, observed that "while the 'normal' person probably only wishes he could get rid of an opponent, the abnormal person living in the same society puts his wish into action, often thinking that he is carrying out the will of others who oppose the offending person."

"If we as Americans could once again develop the art of conversation, we might find that we could develop views in discussion with our friends and neighbors without having to have these views fed to us without any effort on our part by the television tube."

GEORGE ZEIGLER, HENRY NEWS-PUBLICAN, said heism on the part of a school crossing watchman may have saved two youngsters from possible death by a truck without brakes. The watchman was injured but survived.

George pictured the biggest tractor ever sold in Marshall County, with a "climated cab with air filter to keep dust and noise out." Fuel tank capacity is 20 gallons.

George had a 12-page supplement solid with ads. He also had pictures of seniors from apple tree capital. The ad had a feature read, "Marketing 'ADS' up to Fun!"

"The officer ran his fingers through his hair and took out a cigar,"—TILDEN TRIBUNE.

ALLEN KEITH says in the JOURNAL GAZETTE that a local group wants Mattoon to be the crab apple tree capital. The Newsletter is supporting this worthy objective.

BILL MCADAMS, JERSEYVILLE DEMOCRAT-NEWS, noting the appointment of a 22-year old man as managing officer of the Jerseyville Chamber of Commerce, says, "These young people always bring new blood that keeps the supply from becoming dormant or stagnant. Just wait until he is OLD BILL MCADAMS."

In Jerseyville, school will start on Aug. 28. But the big news is that the fellow who got news for dandelion blossoms at 50c a gallon wound up with 800 gallons—which went to a winery in Ames, Iowa.

THE DAILY EGYPTIAN (STU-CARBONADE) had a Saturday issue "dedicated to women," and her changing role in society," including some exceedingly frank commentaries—to which Karl Monroe, COLENSVILLE HERALD, took exception as follows:

"Some misspeller on the Egyptian staff must have had fun punning 'despell' through the proof readers, if any. Isn't it delicious? In an article by the World's Greatest Authority, to wit: 'A little knowledge is a dangerous thing, and a series of self-appointed sexology experts on the Egyptian staff simply demonstrated it.'"

"No wonder today's young people feel cheated and frustrated. They are peddled the notion that a cool combination of sex techniques learned from a book will be sufficient shopping around assures a natural high out of this world."

"Insulated from the physical contact by the methods touted by the Egyptian staff and from emotional and character consequences by the calculated bait and switch, the gurus, they can charge off to total bliss with the Egyptian as their guide."

"When it turns out less than that, they throw rocks at the administration building."

RICHARD JACKSON, MCLEANSBORO TIMES-LEADER, who had a whoppin' "business review" section, predicts the county tax bills will be out about August.

In the T-L, Veronica Voss praised the volunteer firemen for their speed and the city cleanup gang for cleaning up.

When asked to speak ex-temporaneously not long ago, Veronica told of the minister conducting the funeral of a person about whom he knew

Marshall Plan Shows Enterprise Still Prevails

Copley News Service

At the Harvard University commencement 25 years ago, Secretary of State George C. Marshall outlined a bold plan calling for massive U. S. economic aid to save a war-ravaged Europe from disintegration—the Marshall Plan.

At Harvard this spring, the event was commemorated with a speech by Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany, whose country lay in ruins in 1947 and was a beneficiary of the Marshall Plan, performed an "economic miracle" to become one of the leading industrial states of the postwar era.

It was not the $16.7 billion in U. S. aid alone that made the Marshall Plan a success.

It was as much what the 16 nations receiving the aid did with it.

U. S. loans and grants provided only the nucleus of progress whereafter the energy and enterprise of Western Europeans.

It led them to perceive any enjoy the fruit of competitive markets in free trade throughout the free world.

General Marshall had envisioned an economic recovery program applying to Eastern Europe as well as Western Europe.

However, the Soviet Union pressured its newly won satellites—Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania—to shun the Marshall Plan.

Instead, they were drawn into a "Molotov Plan" making their economies subservient to the Soviet Union, while Russian gangs and Communist puppet regimes did the same to their political life.

As for Soviet-occupied East Germany, any of its industrial plants that had survived the war were carted off wholesale to the Soviet Union as war booty.

The East Germans faced an even harder economic struggle than other East Europeans.

While the pace of recovery quickened in Western Europe, workers in the East found their labor harnessed to an economic system rigidly controlled by the state, feeding an ambitious Soviet Union.

It produced not what the people needed but what bureaucratic planners dictated.

It was a political regression and lagging living standards and opportunities, the guardposts and barbed wire erected over their western borders on the pretense of keeping invaders out served only to keep people in.

It is rewarding to the American people to know that it was their generosity that formed the basis for the survival of a free Western Europe.

The Marshall Plan concept carries the same inspiring message for developing countries continuing to receive U. S. economic aid.

The lesson is that the "economic miracles" they long for are most likely to materialize when aid programs are used to channel the energies of the people into development of a free economic system in which initiative and enterprise are rewarded, in which government planning does not weigh too heavily on the competitive spirit which makes economic growth go forward.

That hard work and enterprise produce abundance and prosperity is really an old story—and not a miracle at all.

Shelby County has organized to force the fight drugs, according to Willard Raymond, MOWEAUSA NEWS. He says one good thing about the newspaper is that you can't hear it all through the bus when you're trying to sleep on the way home.

CHIEF CLAYTON to fame of Herrick, tells in the Mueblers' RANNEY NEWS-JOURNAL, how her family came to settle in that area. Seems every year they came from Kentucky to work on the farm.

She also tells of the night when some of her people were in Wisconsin to tap sugar maple trees for "sweetener" to take back to Illinois, and a small Indian girl wandered into their camp. She evidently had been left behind when her tribe moved on in a hurry.

One of the families reared her as their own. Said Magedy, "This little paopose in time became my grandmother, and I have always been proud of that Indian blood."

DON SANDERS, VIENNA TIMES, reports that the Great Con Found Trial that rocked the area for miles around has been settled-out of court.

One man agreed to pay the other's $100 for the dog. Costs of the court proceedings were beginning to mount.

He writes: "Dear Mr. Litterman: I stopped by Saturday morning to see you at Burman Edleman of the Donaglo Tri-City Record. He asked me: 'Do you think you are doing your town over?'

He had spilled lead all over his shoes and trousers from setting type for a yearly report of the Electric Coop for the year forward to having to work Sunday and Memorial Day Monday."

I just told him I tell journalism students if they go into weekly newspaper editing they will get very good pay and will have to work very hard (unless their parents have dough) but will do mankind a tremendous service."

We'll conclude by agreeing heartily in the affirmative in answering the question, "Is it a pleasure to teach some newspaper work?" Students—if it, you may like it.

Winter Wonderland

Mild-Mannered Clark Kent Again Reporting for Metropolis Planet

The Southern Illinois Editorial Association Newsletter, when it isn't "carving new trails in the jungles of journalism," tries to keep member newspapers on their toes by repeating such announcements as, "Watch out for the pancake supper sponsored by the Ladies' Aid."

The weekly bulletin captures some of the flavor of the print media published in the southern half of the state.

In the process, the Newsletter tells something about the hard-working people who, with a little bit of luck and inspiration and an awful lot of time, perspiration and joy in their vocation, produce the once or twice a week "miracles" of news gathering, ad solicitation, picture taking, writing, mechanical composition, press work, bookkeeping, deadline-meeting and problem-solving.

Here are a few excerpts from one of Bill Lyons' June 1972 SIEA editions:

THE METROPOLIS NEWS, which traces its origin back through 108 years and many names to THE PROMULGATOR, on May 25 "orbited into the space age" with a new name, THE METROPOLIS PLANET.

The name of the publishing company, The Metropolis News, Inc., will remain the same and there is no change in ownership.

By adopting the name of THE PLANET, the newspaper is identifying with the new international image of Metropolis, "the home of Superman."

Superman, who is known in the popular comic book series as Clark Kent, is a reporter for THE DAILY PLANET, officially adopted Metropolis as his home in a nationally televised

Alton State Hospital Entertainment Friday

A singing group called "Sing Out East Side" will entertain clients of Alton State Hospital Friday at 7 p.m. at the Recreation Hall. The program is being sponsored by the hospital Activities Department, and community friends are invited to attend.

The group is made up of some 75 young people from the Alton area who like to sing, and their purpose is to try to help other people, officials said. Financing Available for Non-Farm Rural Housing Financing for non-farm rural housing is now available through the Federal Land Bank Association of Belleville, according to Cletus P. Rau, manager, following his return from the Belleville Federal Land Bank Association's board of directors.

The Belleville Association serves farmers and now rural residents in St. Clair, Madison, Clinton, Washington, Monroe, Randolph, Jackson and Perry counties. The members of its board are Cletus L. Biver, Belleville, president; Richard E. Ellis, St. Jacob, vice-president; Anton B. Endres, Germantown; Walter Eickmeyer, Hoytton, and Harry L. Heins, Rockwood.

According to Rau, the Farm Credit Act of 1971 authorized the Federal Land Bank to finance single-family, moderate priced dwellings located in rural areas which primarily are agricultural in character. The Land Bank has made loans to construct and improve homes on farms for many years. This new program should make a significant contribution toward helping solve one of this country's pressing rural development problems by providing financing for housing in the countryside, Rau said.

Several new and revised lending programs for full-time and part-time farmers are also being implemented as a result of this new legislation, now that policies and procedures have been developed. Farm families now are assured that ample and flexible long-term credit is available to finance their capital items within their capacity to repay the loans.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Belleville, managed by Rau, with Dennis J. Graden serving as associate manager, is part of the Federal Land Bank System serving Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas. Over 37,000 farm families in these three states now have over $780 million in Federal Land Bank loans outstanding.

Domestic Steel Shipments Still At High Levels

Despite a slight dip, domestic steel shipments recorded their second highest monthly total in the year during April, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

U. S. mills sent 7,622,000 tons of steel to their customers during the month. This was a drop of 305,000 tons from March's 7,927,000 ton total, and despite a slight dip, domestic steel shipments recorded their second highest monthly total in the year during April, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

However, April's performance was affected by seasonal factors, most prominent of which was the Easter holiday weekend which occurred during the 10-day month.

Through the first four months of 1972, domestic mills shipped 28,696,000 tons of steel products to customers. Although the overall total is below that for the comparable period of last year—when consumer stockpiling in these three states now industry wide strike artificially inflated demand—stainless and tool steel shipments in the January-April, 1972, period were ahead of their total for the first four months of 1971.

SIU-SW Book Authors To Be Honored Tuesday

Nine book authors on the Southern Illinois University faculty at Southwestern and the new associate director of the SIU Press will be honored at a reception Tuesday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Governor's Lounge of the University Center.

Kolesa To Stay Until Replacement Is Found

Thomas J. Kolesa, acting general manager-secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities, said this week he will remain in that post until it is filled permanently.

Kolesa was hired to fill the vacancy temporarily on the resignation of William C. Hocher May 1. The acting general manager-secretary was to serve a 60-day special assignment in the old job and was to leave Friday.

After leaving the Manufacturers' Association, Kolesa and his wife, Anita, plan an extended tour of the United States and then will reside in New Orleans, La.

Trittschuh Re-elected K. of C. Grand Knight

John Trittschuh was re-elected as grand knight of Tri-City Knights of Columbus Council 1068 at its meeting Thursday night. Other officers elected were:

Mike Modrusic, deputy grand knight; William M. Boerckel, chancellor; Steve Nomm, recording secretary; Robert Wojtowicz, treasurer; Frank Orris, warden; Rudy Hoffke, guard; Robert McCormick, trustee; John Koresco, delegate to the state convention; Mike Schuler, alternate to the grand night; and McCormick, alternate to the delegate.

The council contributed $25 to the Catholic Children's Home at Alton to help finance its annual excursion on the Steamer Admiral.

A plaque was presented by Trittschuh to Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church, in behalf of the Annual Temple. The plaque was based on the annual K. of C.-Shriner dinner festival held in April.

A luncheon was prepared and served by Modrusic, council lecturer.

Gateway Action Due On GC TOPICS Plan

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday at St. Louis and is expected to act on a proposed federal aid Primary Type II street system for Granite City.

The Gateway Task Force approved the proposed system last week. The program provides for installation of safety factors under the federal "TOPICS" plan providing state and federal grants for such projects.

Fourteen Granite City streets are designated as part of the system, but specific improvements have not yet been designed.

A new member of the Gateway Council board of directors, Mayor Harold L. Dielman of Creve Coeur, Mo., will be introduced at the session.

Local Control of Funds State Goal, SIMAPC Told

Decisions on the use of funds from the state and federal governments to communities should be made by the local governments who are in the best positions to determine their needs and how to meet them, John Briggs, coordinator for executive reorganization, State of Illinois, told a meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

Last year local governments in this region received 100% more in revenue sharing funds than in the previous year, indicating a major shift which is expected to increase, Briggs said.

He said the trend is a good one in that communities should plan for their own needs under general federal and state guidelines, not rigid restrictive guidelines which detail exactly how each dollar should be spent.

Fire Safety Requirements At Nursing Homes Tightened

By CARYL CARSTENS
Copley News Service

Springfield—Fire safety requirements for Illinois nursing homes are being tightened and compliance speeded according to Paul Elbow, chief of the Division of Health Facilities in the Department of Public Health.

Chiefly affected are nursing homes being sheltered or intermediate care housed in buildings not constructed of fire resistant materials.

Russel Bryant, head of the Long Term Care Facilities section in Elbow's division, estimated between 5,000 and 11,000 beds are in such homes throughout the state.

U. S. Sen. Charles Percy called for immediate enforcement of fire safety standards after inspecting the Carver Convalescent Home in Springfield where 10 persons died in a fire in May 6.

Life Safety Code
Nationally recognized fire safety standards for nursing homes known as the Life Safety Code, are accepted by the State and are being put in effect, but over a period of years.

Elbow said the department has been concerned about fire safety standards as a result of the Carver fire. The decision has been made that sprinkler systems should be installed as soon as possible in nursing homes whose structure isn't fire resistant.

State standards already require sprinkler systems in skilled nursing care homes that aren't built of fire resistant materials. These facilities care for bedridden patients.

Sprinkler Systems
However, regulations don't require intermediate care homes to have sprinkler systems until 1975 and shelter care homes where patients needing the least care are housed, don't have to install them until 1979.

The present effort to bring all homes up to the more stringent standards as soon as possible is being carried out through the fire marshal's office. Orders to install sprinkler systems already have been issued by the fire marshal to some nursing homes.

However, the orders don't set deadlines for installations. The deadlines will be determined by the Department of Public Health.

Elbow stressed that installation "as soon as possible" should be interpreted to mean "as soon as practical."

Joeliam of Orders
There are only a few companies that manufacture and install the sprinkler systems

Marriages totaled 215, down 18, and deaths 165, up 25.
